

Figure S2. Sampling sites in Southern France, mainly located in the Languedoc-Roussillon region (boxed in red). Sites studied at the brûlé and the truffle-ground scale are indicated by large circles; small circles indicate the origin of samples used for the study at the regional scale. Open circle, plantation; closed circle, spontaneous truffle-ground.